The Government of Canada is offering individuals a non-refundable tax credit for the cost of buying a monthly transit pass. You will be able to claim the tax credit for public transit passes on your annual income tax return for the amounts you have paid and can substantiate for travel that occurs during that year.

For 2015 our records indicate that the following amount is eligible for a tax credit: $707.50

This amount has been calculated based on the details listed below:

Year/Month	Adult Pass	Senior/Student Pass	Downtown Express Sticker	Preauthorized Bank Withdrawal	Additional Charges(1)	Other Payments(2)	Total
2015/06	1	0	0	$129.75	$0.00	$0.00	$129.75
2015/07	1	0	0	$129.75	$0.00	$0.00	$129.75
2015/08	1	0	0	$129.75	$0.00	$0.00	$129.75
2015/09	1	0	0	$129.75	$0.00	$0.00	$129.75
2015/10	1	0	0	$129.75	$58.75	$0.00	$188.50
				$648.75	$58.75	$0.00	$707.50

(1) Where applicable, this includes the repayment of discounts if you did not complete your annual subscription term. This also includes the cost to upgrade from a Student/Senior pass to an Adult pass where applicable.

(2) Where applicable, this includes repayment(s) for NSF(s).

If you are claiming the tax credit, you must keep your expired passes and this receipt for verification by the Canada Revenue Agency.

Please note that this tax receipt does not include the cost of any passes that were not purchased through the Metropass Discount Plan (MDP).

For further information concerning the Tax Credit for Public Transit Passes, please contact the Canada Revenue Agency or visit their website at <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca>
